

Announcing Summer 2021 Semester

Recorder Players West is pleased to offer recorder classes during the summer 2021. Due to COVID-19 circumstances, classes are held once more via Zoom. Each class is 1.5 hours long. For dates and times, see table below. The Fall 2021 Semester will start on Oct 6 with the plan to return to in-person classes.

Teaching our classes will be Inga Funck, who always manages to make classes fun while helping each student to grow as musician. She is exposing students to a rich body of repertoire from different centuries, styles, and countries. Inga is a professional recorder player, has played with members of the LA Phil at the Disney Hall and is an experienced teacher. Outside of Recorder Players West, she is offering private lessons as well as other classes independent of RPW.

The classes cater to different skill levels, ranging from pre-intermediate to advanced. To be placed into the right class, please fill out the questionnaire at the end of this flyer.

Schedule and cost: Newcomers who have not been to a Zoom class with Inga yet will be given one free class before they have to decide whether or not to join. Music will be sent via email -- no charge for copying music! Dates and times are as follows:
